Art Unit: 1653

DETAILED ACTION

1. Claim 1 cites SEQ ID NO:209, claim 21 cites SEQ ID NOs:212 and 213, and claims 24 cites SEQ ID NOs :215, 216, 217 and 218, however, the amino acid sequences of these peptides are not consistent with the amino acid sequences shown in the Sequence Listing. Clarification is required.

Election/Restrictions

2. Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U. S. C. 121:
- I. Claims 1-38, drawn to a fluorogenic composition for the detection of the activity of a protease having the formula cited in claim 1 or 21, classified in class 514, subclass 13, and class 549, subclass 227.
 - II. Claims 39-45, drawn to a method of detecting the activity of a protease, comprising contacting the protease with the composition, classified in class 514, subclass 13, and class 435, subclass 7.72.
 - III. Claims 46-50, drawn to a method of delivering a molecule into a cell using the fluorogenic composition, classified in class 514, subclass 13, and class 435, subclass 7.1.
 - IV. Claims 51-61, drawn to a method of screening a test agent for the ability to modulate the activity of a protease using the fluorogenic composition, classified in class 514, subclass 13, and class 435, subclass 7.1.

Should Group I, II, III or IV be elected, applicant is required to select one amino acid sequence identified with a "SEQ ID NO:" which has a defined amino acid residue at each position. An amino acid sequence having any change of amino acid residue at any one or more positions in the sequence is, absent factual data to the contrary, a distinct peptide.

2. The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

The product of Invention I and the methods of Inventions II-IV are related as product and process of use. The inventions can be shown to be distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) the process for using the product as claimed can be practiced with another materially different product or (2) the product as claimed can be used in a materially different process of using that product (MPEP § 806.05(h)). In the instant case, the methods of Inventions II, III and IV are alternate methods of using the product of Invention I.

Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art as shown by the different classification and the recognized divergent subject matter, and because Inventions I-IV require different searches but are not co-extensive, examination of these distinct inventions would pose a serious burden on the examiner and therefore restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement is traversed (37 CFR 1.143).

Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a petition under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).

Art Unit: 1653

The examiner has required restriction between product and process claims. Where applicant elects claims directed to the product, and a product claim is subsequently found allowable, withdrawn process claims that depend from or otherwise include all the limitations of the allowable product claim will be rejoined in accordance with the provisions of MPEP § 821.04. Process claims that depend from or otherwise include all the limitations of the patentable product will be entered as a matter of right if the amendment is presented prior to final rejection or allowance, whichever is earlier. Amendments submitted after final rejection are governed by 37 CFR 1.116; amendments submitted after allowance are governed by 37 CFR 1.312.

In the event of rejoinder, the requirement for restriction between the product claims and the rejoined process claims will be withdrawn, and the rejoined process claims will be fully examined for patentability in accordance with 37 CFR 1.104. Thus, to be allowable, the rejoined claims must meet all criteria for patentability including the requirements of 35 U.S.C. 101, 102, 103, and 112. Until an elected product claim is found allowable, an otherwise proper restriction requirement between product claims and process claims may be maintained. Withdrawn process claims that are not commensurate in scope with an allowed product claim will not be rejoined. See "Guidance on Treatment of Product and Process Claims in light of In re Ochiai, In re Brouwer and 35 U.S.C. § 103(b)," 1184 O.G. 86 (March 26, 1996). Additionally, in order to retain the right to rejoinder in accordance with the above policy, Applicant is advised that the process claims should be amended during prosecution either to maintain dependency on the product claims or to otherwise include the limitations of the product claims. Failure to do so may result in a loss of the right to rejoinder.

Art Unit: 1653

Further, note that the prohibition against double patenting rejections of 35 U.S.C. 121 does not apply where the restriction requirement is withdrawn by the examiner before the patent issues. See MPEP § 804.01.
